AWOL wants to know what you say!

■ HUA HIN, THAILAND

They say that there is always room for improvement for even the best at what they do, and striving for perfection is a noble pursuit. Here at AWOL we are a bit more humble and know that there are many things we can do better, which is why we have set up the First AWOL Survey.

The main aim of the survey is to find out a bit more about you, our readers, and to find out what you think of us, so that we can work on improving what we offer you every week. The survey can be accessed at www.awolonline.net/surveys/ and we hope that many of you will take the time to complete it; we estimate it will take no longer than about fifteen minutes, but there is an option to save your progress and continue later if you need to.

The survey is scheduled to run until the end of August, and if the response is good we may publish some of the results after that, although that is not really the intention of the survey.

We will be running other surveys regarding expat life in Thailand over the coming months to try and build a better picture of the community here and the biggest problems they face which may form the basis for future articles in the paper and on our website and forum.

We would like to assure anyone who is worried about privacy issues that the survey can be completed totally anonymously, and any information given will not be passed on to anyone, and will only be used to improve AWOL and provide a better vehicle for advertisers to promote their businesses in.

Now, tell us what you think!

Do you wonder why we say certain things, or what they really mean? Each week we will examine a different word or phrase and tell you how it came about.

This week it is.... Cheap at half the price

'Cheap at half the price' has joined the list of English phrases that don't convey any useful literal meaning, but which are used in their entirety rather than by being reflected on word by word. Other examples that make little literal sense are 'put your best foot forward', 'head over heels' and, more recently, 'I could care less'.

Anyone who suffers from literalism, faced with an item offered at half the usual price would expect it to be cheap - what isn't cheap if you halve its price? 'Cheap at twice the price', now there is a bargain.

The interpretation of this phrase has caused some debate, with the following three positions summing up that debate:

1. 'Cheap at half the price' is understood to mean 'reasonably priced' and if people understand that meaning why worry about logical niceties?
2. It was never intended to be taken seriously and is a pun on the meaningful phrase 'cheap at twice the price', intended either humorously or in order to deceive.
3. It is just an error made by people who meant to say 'cheap at twice the price' but didn't think hard enough about what they were saying.

'Cheap at half the price' is typical of the street cries of barrow boys. Many of these make no strict sense and stem from the same kind of linguistic exuberance and humour that brought us Cockney rhyming slang. Another theme in barrow boys' calls is the attempt to mislead or at least distract the public and draw their attention away from whatever mild scam the traders might be engaged in. For example, there's a street cry from the 1940s - 'apples a pound pears'. This makes no sense whatsoever, but sounds as though it ought to. Likewise with 'cheap at half the price'. In the hustle and bustle of a street market it sounds as though the customer is getting a bargain. Given the time to think the phrase through (and who bothers to anyway other than poor sufferers who dwell on such things?), it is clear that no promise of value for money was made.

'Cheap at half the price' is by no means recent. Here's an example from The Fort Wayne Daily Sentinel, October 1871: "A New Foundland dog recently sold in this city for $75. He was cheap at half the price."

As an example of the confusion this term causes we couldn't do better. Did they intend us to think the dog was inexpensive at $75 or that it would have been had it been sold for $37.50?

■ LANGADAS, GREECE

Millions of frogs close road in Greece

As if Greece didn't have enough problems already, a major road was forced to shut down for hours after an invasion of millions frogs. Greek officials said that the massed ranks of frogs has forced a key highway near the town of Langadas in the north of the country to close for two hours on Wednesday. Giorgos Thanoglou, chief of traffic police in Thessaloniki, which lies 12 miles west of the Biblical frog plague's epicentre, said that there were 'millions' of frogs on the road.

Authorities had to shut the Egnatia highway down after three cars skidded off the road as their drivers tried to dodge frogs. There were no reports of any humans being injured, although a few of the frogs probably didn't fare so well.

Thanoglou suggested that the amphibians influx could have been due to the frogs leaving a nearby lake to forage for food. 'There was a carpet of frogs,' he added.

■ MALLISS, GERMANY

Bank robbers blow up entire bank, still don't get any money

Wannabe bank-robbers in Germany were forced to leave empty-handed after a slight misjudgement over the amount of explosives needed meant they destroyed the whole bank - except for the thing with the money inside.

The bank destruction took place in the northeastern German village of Malliss (which, if it only got a little bigger, would be a town called Malliss).

The bank was reduced to a pile of rubble and its roof completely obliterated by the night-time explosion, while cars and buildings up to 100 metres away were damaged. However, in the ruins of the bank, there was one thing left completely intact: the cash machine.

'The explosion was so big, they had to run away without the money,' said local police spokesman Niels Borgmann.

'Something evidently didn't work the way the robbers wanted it to,' he added with masterful understatement.

Nobody is thought to have been injured in the blast. Police are still hunting for the culprits.

WINKING

A man with a winking problem is applying for a position as a sales representative for a large firm. The interviewer looks over his papers and says, "This is phenomenal. You've graduated from the best schools; your recommendations are wonderful and your experience is unparalleled. Normally, we'd hire you without a second thought. However, a sales representative has a highly visible position and we're afraid that your constant winking will scare off potential customers. I'm sorry ... we can't hire you."
"But wait," he said. "If I take two aspirin, I'll stop winking!"
"Really? Great! Show me!"
So the applicant reaches into his jacket pocket and begins pulling out all sorts of condoms: red condoms, blue condoms, ribbed condoms, flavored condoms; finally, at the bottom, he finds a packet of aspirin. He tears it open, swallows the tablets and stops winking.
"Well," said the interviewer, "that's all well and good but this is a respectable company and we will not have our employees womanising all over the country!"
"Womanising? What do you mean? I'm a happily married man!"
"Well then, how do you explain all these condoms?"
"Oh, that," he sighed. "Have you ever walked into a chemists winking, and asked for aspirin?"

Your STARS with The Sage Monkey

brought to you by my.opera.com/bentrein

Capricorn Dec 22 - Jan 19
You will have a vision of peace, transcendent love, and infinite compassion, only to find it was all a dream. Also, your pillow is gone

Aquarius Jan 20 – Feb 18
Don't take it personally: Someone had to be the cutoff point for who does and doesn't get on the Emergency Earth-Escape Rocket.

Pisces Feb 19 – Mar 20
Alarming developments this week mean that withholding sex will no longer be one of your more effective threats.

Aries Mar 21 – Apr 20
You'll be thrilled all the way down to your toenails this week when electrodes are planted in the appropriate pleasure centers of your brain.

Taurus Apr 21 – May 21
After the events of next Sunday, for the rest of your life, people will stop you on the street and ask you to autograph packages of pork chops.

Gemini May 22 – June 21
Millions will be rescued this week when the Red Cross deploys thousands of desperately needed words to the site of an unspeakable tragedy.

Cancer Jun 22 – Jul 22
You must admit that you're sleeping better than ever, but it's kind of unpleasant to wake up every morning with a blowgun dart in the back of your neck.

Leo Jul 23 – Aug 22
More than anything, you want to mold and shape young minds. Unfortunately, most commercially available Jell-O molds are unsuitable for this purpose.

Virgo Aug 23 – Sep 22
Your new pheromone-based scent will make you irresistible to women, who will devour you, bones, hair, and all.

Libra Sep 23 – Oct 23
Well, the stars tried, but somehow, you've been left more or less in control of your own destiny this week.

Scorpio Oct 24 – Nov 21
For centuries, great thinkers have contemplated the purpose of life. It's best to just relax and assume they've figured it out.

Sagittarius Nov 22 – Dec 21
If you've ever regretted not pursuing a career in bullfighting, this week may bring an accidental chance to start over.

A temporary shift from the centre pages this week to accommodate AWOL's World Cup Wallchart, also available to download in full colour from www.awolonline.net. We are currently in the lull before the storm of the jazz festival which will definitely liven things up!

Don't Miss This Week

- 'Sudsakorn, a Thai Musical' @Vic Hua Hin. Every Saturday until 12th June. A new show by Patravadi Theatre featuring a classic Thai epic poem set to Western style music. The title character, the son of the mermaid, is sent on a magical quest to find his father. Sort of like Finding Nemo. Shows start at 7:30pm, with warm-up music by the Hua Hin Sound Cloud Project at 6:30. Vic Hua Hin Theatre, near the Centennial Park on Petchkasem Road in Nongkae. http://www.vichuahin.com. Tel. 032 817 815.

Upcoming

- Hua Hin Jazz Festival. Friday 18th to Sunday 20th June. Check out the AWOL website (www.awolonline.net/hhlive.html) for the full schedule, although this is still liable to change; international headliners are Lee Ritenour, Eric Marienthal, Jeff Lorber and Jimmy Haslip.

Ongoing

- Sound Cloud Sundays. Showcase of original and experimental music in Hua Hin. Every Sunday 2:00 to 4:00 pm. Baan Sillapin Art & Antiques Gallery and Studio. Info at tel. 089 181 6328. Free
- Art Exhibition by Tawee Kesa-Ngam and Family. Daily, 9am to 5pm except Mondays, until 31 April. Baan Sillapin Art & Antiques Gallery and Studio Tel. 03 253 4830.

Stage Shows and Special Performances

- Cicada Market and Performing Arts Fair. The Venue@Suansri. Fri/Sat evenings from sunset to 12 pm, Sundays from 4pm; Dining, shopping, art, performances, and films in a beautiful park-like setting. A wonderful place to spend an evening.
- SASI Dinner Theatre. SASI Restaurant. Nightly at 7:00pm, Dinner with Thai Contemporary theatre performance. Recommended. They have their own theatre troupe, who are quite good.
- Hua Hin Magic Show, Hilton Hotel. Thur. to Sat. at 8:00 pm; A full professional magic show. Adults 400 Bt. Children 200 Bt. Tel. 083 503 0999
- Cabaret Show, Blue Angel Cabaret. Every night 8pm and 9:46pm. Midnight show on weekends. Something a little different.

Open Jams and Music Showcases

- CLOSED FOR THE SEASON. With the exodus of players and audience for the low season, Hua Hin's vibrant jazz jam scene is quiescent, after attaining unprecedented popularity. Look for things to kick up again around late November. Until then, KEEP THE FAITH BABY!

Your Problems SOLVED

to Mary Ann Cotton on submissions@awolonline.net

Mary's daughter Betsy Jane once again takes charge of the column this week, with some outstanding advice on a prospective career change. WARNING: contains language of a child like nature.

■ DEAR MARY,
Having been unemployed since I left school in 1976, I'm suddenly finding the long lie-ins rather tiresome and feel like a career change. However, I'm not really sure which path to take. I think I might make a good heart surgeon, or perhaps a lecturer in astro-physics; as long as it keeps me in som tam and lao khao I'm not overly fussed. What would you suggest?
Nat, Bangkok

Dear Nat,
Yesterday I went to my daddy's office for 'take your daughter to work day'. There were loads of fat, old ladies there who sat about in swivelly chairs eating biscuits and talking about Grey's Anatomy and how much they hated other ladies in the office. Sometimes they typed things on a computer, but most of the time they just ate biscuits. It must be very boring going to work because no-one gets to do any jigsaw puzzles. Plus all the paper is plain white and the pens are all black so I don't know how they can make any pretty pictures to take home to their families. My daddy said that grown-ups have to go to work so that they can earn a living, but I'm sure there must be more fun ways to make money. A girl in the class above me called Claudia lets all the boys see up her skirt in return for crisps and a go on their BMX bikes. Once, Claudia did a poo in an ice-cream tub and charged all the other girls and boys 20p each to see it and with the proceeds she was able to buy a significant quantity of pick 'n' mix. Claudia obviously has a head for business, and so perhaps you should follow her example when you're thinking about your next career move.
Hope that helps!

World Cup Fantasy League

Just go to http://www.fsports.co.uk/football (please note that this is a change of address) and register free, then join the AWOL in South Africa league, code number 92907, and the password is thailand. The rules are slightly different to the Premier League game so make sure you read them!
Each player will score 1 point for an appearance if they play any part in the match regardless of how long they are on the pitch. Goalkeepers and Defenders will get 5 points for a clean sheet, and 2 points if only 1 goal is conceded. No points are awarded if 2 or more goals are conceded. Midfielders will get 2 points for a clean sheet. There are no minus points for goals conceded.
Players will be awarded 5 points for scoring a goal, and 3 points for an 'Assist'. Own goals do not count. Assist points will not necessarily be awarded for rebounds, deflections, own goals, ricochets or penalty awards. All players will be awarded minus 2 points for a booking, increasing to minus 5 if they are sent off.
