ARMED AND DANGEROUS

TEENAGE BIKER GANGS ATTACK ROAD USERS ON HUA HIN STREETS

■ HUA HIN THAILAND

The menace of teenage gangs racing around Hua Hin on souped up motorbikes carrying a variety of weapons has once again reared its very ugly head. Reports have been coming in of incidents which have resulted in injury and serious damage to vehicles.

The gangs' modus operandi appears to be to congregate late at night or in the very early morning to use public roads as their own dangerous playground, and anyone who dares to try and use the road they are on is in danger of being chased and attacked. They block the entire road, weaving and racing alternately, which forces any unfortunate car or other road user to either take a diversion or run their gauntlet.

Up to forty or fifty bikes can be involved, often with two or three of the wannabe hoodlums on each. There are strong suspicions that many of them are hyped up on 'ya ba' or similar amphetamine based drugs. There is clear evidence that they carry wooden clubs, machetes, slingshots (with large marbles) and guns, possibly home made.

The police are aware of their presence but are in an invidious position, as it appears that these young thugs may be from rich and powerful families who will make the job of investigation, prosecution and appropriate punishment of the guilty parties virtually impossible. Incidents similar to this were occuring a couple of years ago but were stopped by the police, so it must be hoped they can do so again.

Incidents have occurred on the Canal Road, Chomsin Road and Petchkasem Road, and if they continue unabated we are sure to see death on the streets as a result. We hope that if it is any of these biker brats, it is seen for what it is, as being a result of their own actions and not any poor unfortunate law abiding driver who was trying to pass them.

If you have had any encounters with these louts, please email AWOL on info@awolonline.net with the details.

■ Do you wonder why we say certain things, or what they really mean? Each week we will examine a different word or phrase and tell you how it came about.

This week it is.. Say cheese

'Say cheese!' must have been said to people posing for photographs as often as 'watch the birdie!'. Articulating a long 'e' sound requires us to draw back our lips and bare our teeth in a grimace, which is the obvious reason for photographers using it. The question is though - why cheese and not some other word? (and, come to that, why birdie? - but more on that later).

Despite exhaustive etymological delving, no one has found any literal link between 'say cheese' and the meaning of the word cheese. Some have suggested that it relates to the now rather archaic term 'cheese it', meaning 'run away'. That's pure speculation and in any case; why would a photographer just about to take someone's picture encourage them to run away? 'Cheese' was probably chosen because both the 'ch' and 'ee' sounds require a baring of the teeth, but then, so other words, like 'each' and 'seas'. Of course, non-English speaking cultures also take photographs and have their own versions. In Mexico and Argentina, they say 'whisky' and in France, 'dit souris' ('say mouse').

The term was probably coined impromptu by a photographer and we aren't ever likely to find out who that was. We do have a pointer to who first popularised the use the word when having a photograph taken. The earliest printed records of the expression are from the 1940s, in particular, this piece from the Texas newspaper The Big Spring Daily Herald, October 1943, titled Need To Put On A Smile? Here's How: Say 'Cheese': Now here's something worth knowing. It's a formula for smiling when you have your picture taken. It comes from former Ambassador Joseph E. Davies and is guaranteed to make you look pleasant no matter what you're thinking. Mr. Davies disclosed the formula while having his own picture taken on the set of his "Mission to Moscow." It's simple. Just say "Cheese," It's an automatic smile. "I learned that from a politician," Mr. Davies chuckled. "An astute politician, a very great politician. But, of course, I cannot tell you who he was..."

Ambassador Davies looked every inch the politician who took his own advice. His coy 'I cannot tell you who it was' was no doubt delivered with a wink, as Davies served under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who fits his description perfectly well, as listeners in 1940s America would have been well aware.

The fact that the newspaper report presented Davies' recipe as a novelty that its readers would previously be unfamiliar with does suggest that the phrase can't be much earlier than 1943 in origin. It's also reasonable to speculate that it was Roosevelt introduced the phrase into the language.

Photographers these days often prefer to use 'Say, one, two, three', as it produces the same grins and makes sure that all the sitters smile at the same time. While it appears that virtually any 'long e' word could have been chosen instead, 'cheese' has stood the test of time and resulted in a new adjective - 'cheesy'. People began to speak of 'cheesy grins' or 'cheesy smiles'. The word 'cheesy', meaning 'vulgar'/'tasteless', derives from the perceived insincerity of cheesy grins.

As for 'watch the birdie', this now outdated instruction, usually given to children to get them to face in the right direction for a photographic portrait, unlike 'say cheese', did refer to an actual object. The 'birdies' were animated props that could be made to squawk or warble and so attract a child's attention.

■ WORDS OF WISDOM FROM AVIATORS
Flying is a hard way to earn an easy living.

Both optimists and pessimists contribute to society. The optimist invents the airplane, the pessimist, the parachute.

If helicopters are so safe, how come there are no vintage helicopter flypasts?

Real planes use only a single stick to fly. This is why bulldozers & helicopters -- in that order -- need two.

There are only three things the copilot should ever say:

1. Nice landing, Sir.
2. I'll buy the first round.
3. I'll take the fat one.

As a pilot only two bad things can happen to you and one of them will.
a. One day you will walk out to the aircraft knowing that it is your last flight.
b. One day you will walk out to the aircraft not knowing that it is your last flight.

There are Rules and there are Laws. The Rules are made by men who think that they know better how to fly your airplane than you. Laws (of Physics) were ordained by nature. You can, and sometimes should, suspend the Rules but you can never suspend the Laws.

The ideal pilot is the perfect blend of discipline and aggressiveness.

The medical profession is the natural enemy of the aviation profession..

Ever notice that the only experts who decree that the age of the pilot is over are people who have never flown anything? Also, in spite of the intensity of their feelings that the pilot's day is over I know of no expert who has volunteered to be a passenger in a non-piloted aircraft.

It's not that all airplane pilots are good-looking. Just that good-looking people seem more capable of flying airplanes.

An old pilot is one who can remember when flying was dangerous and sex was safe.

The scientific theory I like best is that the rings of Saturn are composed entirely of lost airline baggage..

You define a good flight by negatives: you didn't get hijacked, you didn't crash, you didn't throw up, you weren't late, you weren't nauseated by the food. So you're grateful.

The FAA Motto: We're not happy till you're not happy.

CAPRICORN DEC 22 - JAN 19

Everyone will be full of praise and admiration for you, but don't let it go to your head. This is only normal at funerals.

AQUARIUS JAN 20 – FEB 18

The Legion Of Super Heroes would like to thank you for your application, but regretfully informs you that it is actually just a comic book.

PISCES FEB 19 – MAR 20

Although you dislike your career, you know there are only so many options for a hot, horny housewife who's waiting breathlessly by her phone.

ARIES MAR 21 – APR 20

The stars would give you a horoscope, but you dropped the ball last week when you failed to meet a dark, handsome stranger. This is a two-way street, buddy.

TAURUS APR 21 – MAY 21

Mars in your sun sign indicates that you will go to work, watch televised sports, drink copious amounts of beer and enjoy several hot meals this week.

GEMINI MAY 22 – JUNE 21

Your birthday will be your best ever in terms of presents. In terms of contracting explosive leprosy, it'll be just so-so.

CANCER JUN 22 – JUL 22

You will lose an argument with a truck next Tuesday. This is not, however, a cute way of denoting a traffic accident; you're just not very good at arguing.

LEO JUL 23 – AUG 22

You will waste another nine hours having phone sex this week, but since your particular phone sex doesn't require calling anyone, at least you won't waste any money.

VIRGO AUG 23 – SEP 22

Christ will appear before you and firmly state that He has never been on a crutch, on a bike, or in a sidecar. Please stop implying that He has.

LIBRA SEP 23 – OCT 23

You will receive a drunken late-night call from Todd Carty, who was going through some old fan mail and decided to accept your 1978 marriage proposal.

SCORPIO OCT 24 – NOV 21

The residents of Walla Walla and Kalamazoo will contact you and demand that you stop using the names of their cities as some kind of weak joke.

SAGITTARIUS NOV 22 – DEC 21

The authorities realize that you are responsible for his broken legs and the cigarette burns on his arms, but they are powerless to take protective custody of Couchy, your favorite old couch.

Le Tour en point de mire

La perspective d'une victoire dans le Tour de France aurait elle dissuadée le Khazak Vinokourov, Jurgen Van Den Broeck ou encore Cadel Evans de tenter de renverser Bradley Wiggins ? Se sont-ils contentés de garder du jus pour le Tour qui arrive dans trois semaines ou n'ont-ils pas été en mesure de l'attaquer réellement ? On peut se poser ces questions quand on voit le déroulement de la dernière étape du Dauphiné-Libéré.

Le Britannique Bradley Wiggins, après son succès dans le contre la montre de Grenoble, n'eut qu'à tranquillement gérer les étapes de montagne. Tranquillement car heureuse victime de la passivité des favoris. Pourtant, l'enchainement de trois étapes de montagne lors des trois derniers jours, aurait pu être explosif mais la course s'est déroulée autrement.

Tant mieux pour Bradley Wiggins qui retrouve ses jambes de 2009, année ou il se vit terminer le Tour de France en 4ème position. Derrière Contador, Andy Schlek et Armstrong. Pas mal.

Il se voit donc, légitimement, jouer les premiers rôles lors de la grande boucle. L'idée de le voir jouer des coudes lors des grandes étapes de montagne avec Schlek et Contador est exagérée, mais après avoir montré une si belle aisance lors des ascensions de cols…

Surtout qu'après une année 2010 consacrée au Tour de France, sur lequel il s'est complètement loupé (il termina l'épreuve en 24ème position), il y a fort à parier qu'il sera au départ avec l'envie de montrer bien mieux. C'est tout le mal qu'on lui souhaite.

Tibet... L'heure solaire

L'ensoleillement exceptionnel que reçoit le Tibet est une source à exploiter. L'énergie solaire a déjà fait son apparition il y a quelques années, permettant aux habitants de la capitale Lhassa de se doucher à l'eau chaude et de cuire les aliments avec une grande rapidité grâce aux fours solaires, très prisés de la population. « C'est beaucoup plus efficace que mon vieux four alimenté à la bouse de yaks » se réjouit une autochtone.

Là où l'énergie solaire se retrouve bonne à tout faire est quand elle se voit, grâce à des panneaux solaires fixes sur le dessus, alimentant des moulins à prières pour que les personnes, âgées notamment, n'aie plus besoin de le faire tourner en l'actionnant de leurs mains.

Mais il y aussi des ambitieux projets d'installation électriques. Une centrale photovoltaïque de 10 MW est en cours de construction depuis trois mois. Plusieurs autres projets dans la région sont sur les rails.

Le Tibet a un ensoleillement de plus de 3000 heures par an. Il est donc compréhensible que certains y voient là l'envie d'investir. Mais ce n'est sans compter les problèmes qu'il va falloir régler. Notamment politiques et technologiques. Mais le souci majeur de ces projets sera de réussir à convaincre le personnel qualifié de venir vivre au Tibet. Y venir passer des vacances est certainement l'envie de tous mais y travailler à 4000 mètres d'altitude en est une autre.

Daniel Humair

Ce Suisse, qui a fait ses premières armes avec le tambour au sein d'une fanfare genevoise à l'âge de 7 ans, est plus Français que Suisse. Fasciné par les tambours, il commence à jouer du New Orléans et à apprendre le jazz moderne. Il remporte le premier prix dans trois catégories au Festival de Jazz amateur de Zurich à l'âge de 17 ans en tant d'autodidacte (il est né le 23 mai 1938 à Genève). A l'époque, des concours étaient organisés dans tous les festivals de jazz pour jeunes talents. Il devient professionnel.

En 1958, il a alors 20 ans, il s'installe à Paris et devient le batteur le plus demandé dans la capitale de jazz de l'époque.

Tous les musiciens font appel à lui : Don Byas, Lucky Thompson, Kenny Dorham, Bud Powell, Oscar Petitford, Chet Baker, Eric Dolphy… C'est simple, il n'y a que deux musiciens avec lesquels il n'a pas joué : Miles Davis et Sonny Rollins.

En 1959, il commence une longue collaboration avec Martial Solal, Pierre Michelot, René Urtreger, Barney Wilen et Stéphane Grappelli. C'est au Club St. Germain qu'il rencontre tous les grands.

Renouveau du Jazz Français

On lui doit, dans les années 70, le renouveau du jazz français avec François Jeanneau et Henri Texier. C'est le vrai catalyseur et la découverte de jeunes talents. Une vraie renaissance. Daniel Humair a eu l'occasion de se produire dans la plupart des grands festivals de jazz partout dans le monde.

Peintre Abstrait

Parallèlement à sa carrière musicale, Daniel Humair poursuit une intense activité de peintre. De tendance expressionniste abstraite, sa peinture est présentée par plusieurs galeries internationales et peut être vue dans de nombreuses collections publiques ou privées, notamment avec des expositions et collections permanente à la Ville de Paris, au Centre Culturel Suisse et au Musée des Arts Moderne à Paris.

Son intérêt pour les rapports entre les arts visuels et la musique lui a permis de participer à l'enregistrement de nombreuses musiques de films ou de télévision en tant que compositeur ou soliste. P. ex. Une sale affaire, Les Conquistadores, Le dernier Tango à Paris etc.

Auteur d'une méthode de batterie

Il est aussi l'auteur d'une méthode de batterie publiée aux Éditions Leduc. Les graphismes utilisés dans cette méthode sont le fruit du travail de Daniel Humair en tant qu'enseignant pendant une dizaine d'années.

Dans le milieu du jazz, mais également dans les autres domaines musicaux, le trio (un des plus beaux de l'histoire du jazz) composé de Daniel Humair, Jean-Francois Jenny-Clark (contrebasse), né en 1944 à Toulouse et Joachim Kühn (piano), né en 1944 à Leipzig, tous deux de formation classique, est considéré comme une rencontre, fusion et complicité entre trois compères jamais égalées. Aucun des trois musiciens ne s'est jamais mis en avant. Trois solistes, trois accompagnateurs, trois compositeurs et arrangeurs, et surtout trois amis, ont marqué cette formule pendant presque une vingtaine d'années avec des centaines de concerts dans tous les coins du monde, marquant l'esprit de chaque auditeur.

Aucun concert ne pouvait ressembler à un autre, car les structures étant déjà là, l'imagination, l'improvisation, la richesse, la complicité de ces instrumentalistes du plus haut niveau permettait de donner une couleur, une variation illimitée et un jeu de finesse instrumentale inouï.

Après le décès, en octobre 1998, de J.-F. Jenny-Clark, il forme un nouveau trio avec Dominique Pifarély et Jean-Paul Céléa. Il travaille également avec David Friedman, Bob Berg, John Scofield, Dave Liebman, Larry Schneider, Enrico Rava, Richard Galliano, Michel Portal et Jerry Bergonzi et, en trio, avec Bruno Chevillon et Marc Ducret. Il se produit également régulièrement avec de jeunes et talentueux musiciens français comme en témoignent l'enregistrement „Baby Boom" et les concerts qu'il a donnés jusqu'à ce jour. Le dernier enregistrement témoigne de son éternel art de l'improvisation avec Pas de dense avec Tom Malaby et Bruno Chevillon en 2010.

Le Palais Idéal

D'un cailloux naquit un chef-d'oeuvre

Joseph Ferdinand Cheval ouvre pour la première fois les yeux à Charmes-sur-l'Herbasse (Drome) le 19 Avril 1836. Sans savoir que quelques années plus tard il accomplirait un chef-d'œuvre d'architecture naïve.

A l'âge de treize ans et le certificat d'étude en poche, il devient apprenti boulanger et le restera pas mal d'années, mais certainement qu'une envie d'évasion et d'aventure trotte en lui car le 12 juillet 1867, il devient facteur.

Deux ans plus tard, il est muté dans le village de Hauterive situé à quelques kilomètres de là où il vit. Il se retrouve responsable de la « tournée de Tersanne » sur laquelle il usera grand nombre de guêtres puisque son kilométrage est de 33, à faire quotidiennement, bien sur.

C'est durant ces tournées interminables qu'il édifie mentalement son chef-d'œuvre, son palais féerique.

En début d'année 1879, commence sa fantastique création. Durant l'une de ses tournées, il trébuche à cause d'une pierre. Rien de bien anormal pensez vous, sauf que notre génie Drômois voit en ce simple caillou le début d'une formidable aventure. Fasciné par sa forme étrange, il ramasse la pierre et la met dans sa poche.

Dès le lendemain, repassant au même endroit, il décide de s'arrêter et de regarder à ses pieds. Il voit un nombre incroyable d'autres pierres à la forme étrange, ou peut être son esprit qui voit en elles quelque chose d'étrange. Le lendemain, il en ramasse un peu plus, puis encore plus quelques jours plus tard et ainsi de suite durant les 33 années à venir. Tous les jours, durant chaque tournée, il ramasse des pierres aux formes imparfaites. Rentré chez lui, il les inspecte et créer son palais. Il travaille même la nuit à l'aide d'une lampe à pétrole. Il est bien évidemment et malheureusement considéré comme un fou par les gens de la région mais sa folie créative prend le dessus sur la médiocrité humaine.

Pendant les vingt premières années, il consacre son temps a l'édification de la façade Est qu'il nomme « Temple de la Nature ». Puis vient la façade Ouest, beaucoup plus limitée dans ses formes mais constellée d'architectures miniatures. On y trouve un Temple Hindou, un chalet Suisse ou encore une Mosquée. Les façades Nord et Sud sont pleines de grottes et d'animaux. Ferdinand Cheval termine la construction du Palais Idéal en 1912.

Il émet le souhait d'être enseveli dans l'enceinte de son œuvre mais la loi Française refuse si le corps n'est pas incinéré. Ferdinand Cheval acquiesce mais décide lui-même de la forme de son tombeau. A partir de ce moment la, il recommence a aller chercher des pierres sur la « tournée de Tersanne » qu'il achemine jusqu'au cimetière d'Hauterive pour construire son tombeau. Pendant huit ans. Il termine en 1922 ce qu'il appelle « Tombeau du silence et du repos sans fin ». Il y est inhumé en 1924 et laisse à son pays, au monde, ainsi qu'à tous les rêveurs les plus aventureux, la preuve que sans folie, le talent n'est rien…

COMMENT JOUER AU KAKURO ?

En fait, c'est comme (et aussi simple que) les mots croisés ! Au lieu de définitions, on a des nombres-totaux (à un ou deux chiffres) dans les cases grises barrées d'une diagonale.

Il faut simplement trouver et mettre dans les cases blanches en regard de ces totaux (à droite ou en-dessous) les chiffres qui composent ces totaux.

C'est tout ? C'est tout ! Seule contrainte : un même chiffre ne peut pas être utilisé deux fois pour composer un total.

Pour démarrer, cherchez les "cas évidents" : 3 (1+2), 4 (1+3), 16 (7+9) et 17 (8+9) !!

BIENVENUE A HUA HIN, AMOUR !!!

Parler d'amour, quand on veut déjeuner ou dîner chez HERVE, le nouveau venu du Soy 80, c'est savoir mélanger tendresse et gastronomie.

Sous la tonnelle ombragée de sa petite maison, avec les quelques tables dressées, on imagine le cri du grillon et devine les senteurs du coq au vin ou les vapeurs du chocolat chaud.

Hervé sait de quoi parler lorsque vous lui demandez son parcours de cuisinier. Les adresses sont belles à Paris : La Closerie des Lilas, la Brasserie de luxe Suffren, sous la Tour Eiffel, et aussi à BANGKOK, le dernier de la liste, le Paris Bangkok.

AMOUR propose tous les jours, de 11 à 23 heures, une carte variée dont voici quelques exemples :

Salade de chèvre chaud, 195 THB

Bœuf bourguignon façon 'grand-mère', 180 THB

Ile flottante aux amandes, 80 THB

En prime, si vous parlez français, une remise argent/sourire est prévue !

JUB-JUB BAR SOI 80

Ils méritent bien un petit détour les animateurs du JUB-JUB.

A propos de détour, c'est facile de les trouver ,en venant de Petchkasem ,prendre tout de suite à gauche dans le 80 et puis après, avancer quelques dizaines de mètres pour apercevoir les lumières tamisées de cet espace bien francophone ,ouvert tous les soirs .

Et aussi de profiter des soirées à thèmes que la clientèle apprécie de plus en plus. L'atmosphère est conviviale et les parties de billard agrémentent, si besoin est, les conversations de fins de soirées.

Dernière minute

Koh Saxman concert à Hua Hin

Ce grand virtuose du saxophone alto et soprano est l'invité de l'amphithéâtre CICADA le 18 juin 2011 à 19 heures.

Il y aura des surprises et des jam sessions. A part son band habituel, Saxman jouera avec Steve Cannon, un excellent trompettiste américain, Hank The Groove et un autre guitariste, Captain Loma, une découverte pour le public.

Ce n'est pas tout : 3 à 4 chanteurs(es) seront également de la partie et les musiciens locaux comme la chanteuse Ann et notre saxophoniste de Hua Hin, Mr. Noon montreront leur talent dans ce spectacle.

A ne pas manquer !... Une avant-première pour le Hua Hin Jazz Festival.

26 & 27 AOUT 2011... LE FESTIVAL DE JAZZ DE HUA HIN

Tout vient à point à qui sait attendre ….et BANGKOK FANATIX, le nouvel organisateur de cette 10ème édition, devrait apporter la note de qualité indispensable pour rendre hommage à MILES DAVIS.

Les concerts auront lieu sur la plage en face du Sofitel. Des activités artistiques et des ateliers créatifs font également partie du programme, actuellement en planification.

Autant d'événements mis en œuvre pour fêter le 84ème anniversaire de sa Majesté le Roi de Thaïlande.

Méditation... Le néant sur un nuage (suite)

Une affaire de pratique

Apprendre à méditer seul et par soi-même est tout à fait possible et plus facile que l'on ne croit. Avoir une bonne sensibilité et savoir lire l'énergie de son corps sont des atouts qui vous aideront à rapidement faire l'expérience de la méditation et d'en resentir les bien-faits

Afin de simplifier la lecture de cet article, nous allons diviser la panoplie des styles de méditation en deux grandes catégories:

a) Les méditations passives (sans aucun mouvement).

b) Les méditations actives (dont la pratique se base sur un ou des gestes physiques autres que la respiration).

De plus, il existe deux "genres" de méditation:

a) Les méditations de concentration

b) Les méditations de pleine conscience

Les différentes méthodes (actives et passives) de méditation sont donc aussi qualifiées par leurs genres respectifs. La méditation Mahassati, par exemple, est une forme de méditation active qui demande et engendre la pleine conscience.

La méditation active

Il n'est pas donné à tout le monde de pouvoir s'asseoir pendant une ou 2 heures par jour et ne penser à rien. La méditation active (ou physique) offre l'avantage, pour la personne qui la pratique, la possibilité de bouger.

Les méditations actives requièrent la pratique de gestes. Le but de la méditation active est de se concentrer uniquement sur le geste et en devenir conscient. Ceci veut dire que quasiment n'importe quelle activité peut devenir une forme de méditation ; la nage, la marche et l'origami sont des exemples de méditations actives, à condition de pratiquer ces activités en restant conscient des gestes. Dans cette catégorie, nous retrouvons aussi les méthodes suivantes:

Le yoga
La méditation Kundalini
Le Taichi et le Chicong
La méditation Mahasati

L'individu plutôt nerveux trouvera donc les formes actives (tel le yoga) plus faciles et il ou elle obtiendra sans doute de meilleurs résultats.

La méditation devrait être pratiquée quotidiennement, sinon le plus régulièrement possible.

La méditation passive

Les méditations passives sont celles qui sont pratiquées en maintenant le corps immobile. Elles requièrent la concentration sur quelque chose ou une pleine conscience. Il s'agit donc d'une pratique qui demande, surtout pour les débutants, un grand calme et une bonne capacité à faire abstraction des mouvements et des bruits extérieurs.

Parmis les méditations passives, nous retrouvons entre autre les suivantes:

La méditation avec l'aide d'un mantra (aussi appelée transcendentale, qui consciste à répéter un mot ou une phrase)

La méditation avec l'aide d'un objet ou d'un son

La méditation Anapanasati

La méditation Anapanasati

Cette forme de méditation est celle que le Buddha emprunta afin d'atteindre son illumination. Sa pratique est très simple et consiste à prendre pleine conscience de sa respiration.

Durant la pratique de la méditation Anapanasati, vous devez simplement observer chaque étape du mouvement respiratoir. Bien que certains peuvent pratiquer cette forme de méditation pendant des heures, commencez avec des courtes périodes de 15 minutes afin de vous y habituer et d'y prendre goût.

Choisissez un endroit calme ou vous pourrez méditer pendant 15 ou 20 minutes. Enlevez vos chaussures, assoyez-vous, de préférence dans une position confortable. Fermez vos yeux et prenez quelques minutes afin de détendre votre corps et de ralentir votre esprit. Entrez graduellement dans la méditation en observant votre respiration. Il est préférable de respirer par le nez. "Trop vite" et "trop lent" n'ont plus aucune importance. Ne faites qu'observer chaque mouvement d'air dans vos narines. Au début, votre esprit va probablement se perdre dans des pensées. C'est normal puisque vous êtes habitué à penser. Lorsque cela se produira, prenez l'habitude de revenir à votre respiration.

L'ATOME DE SA VOIX

195 réacteurs nucléaires sont actuellement présent en Europe avec pour leader la France (58). Mais depuis la catastrophe de Fukushima, la donne a changé.

La Suisse et surtout l'Allemagne ont décidé de se séparer de leur dépendance à l'atome. Malheureux de devoir réagir en conséquence de ce qui s'est passé au Japon, comme si ces risques n'avaient jamais été évoqués ou calculés. La Suisse, dont l'énergie atomique couvre 40% de son électricité, a planifié de fermer sa dernière centrale en 2034 et l'Allemagne (22%) pense en avoir fini avec l'atome pour 2022.

D.Vaillant, ancien ministre de l'intérieur sous JOSPIN, affirme que ces histoires de pédophilie ne sont jamais venues à ses oreilles, n'en déplaise à Luc Ferry

LE ROI DES FRUITS

Le nom de ce délicieux fruit vient de tribus d'Indiens d'Amérique centrale qui l'appelait « nana ». Lor sque Christoph Colomb arrive sur les rives de la belle Guadeloupe, en 1493, les autochtones lui ten dent en guise de bienvenue une tranche d'ananas pour qu'il puisse se désaltérer après tant de temps passé sur de l'eau salée. Ce fruit était même posé à l'entrée des huttes pour accueillir les visiteurs.

L'ananas arrive en Martinique en 1548. Les premiers à le faire découvrir en Europe sont les Hollandais et ils sont également les premiers à le cultiver sous serre.

■ JARNOLTOWKA, POLAND
Drunk bareback 'Romeo' facing jail for riding horse into house to impress girl

You're out drinking with friends, trying to hatch a clever plan to impress a girl. What do you decide? Strip off and ride your horse into her front room of course.

Lovestruck Pole Jan Rudnicki, 40, came up with his fool-proof idea while in a bar in the town of Jarnoltowka while chatting to friends about the best way to impress eligible divorcee Gosia Domoslawska, 36.

Friends said when Jan first suggested his bizarre plot they thought he was joking. 'But then he went outside, climbed onto this horse - which he'd ridden to the pub - and set off bare-breasted and bare-backed,' Mirek Nowak explained. The next thing we knew, he'd been arrested.'

Gosia called the police - and called him 'a loon' - after he'd ripped off her front door. 'I was at home watching TV with my daughter when I heard this deafening crash and suddenly this half-naked man on a horse appeared in my front room,' she said. 'I never fancied him before and I certainly don't now. If this was supposed to win my heart he must be seriously off his rocker.'

The dad-of-seven has since apologised and offered to repair the damage.

How did that get there? Car wedged in van to avoid trailer costs

Police who stopped a white van veering from side to side on a busy road were somewhat surprised when they opened the back doors of the vehicle to find a car wedged in on its side.

The white van men from Kazakhstan decided to save on trailer costs after snapping up a silver Mazda 626 that they wanted to ship back home. When the car didn't fit in the van the right way up - the two men called a few pals and loaded it in on its side on top of a mattress.

But the trip back home for Konstanty Krol, 38, and Cezar Chmielewski, 28, ended when police stopped the heavily laden van after seeing it lurching all over the road. A police spokesman said the vehicles were confiscated and the men ordered to return with a proper transporter for the car before they would be allowed to continue the journey.

THE MURRAY MOUND EXPERIENCE

ANDY MURRAY TO WATCH WIMBLEDON FINAL IN 3D

■ WIMBLEDON, ENGLAND

The BBC will show the finals at this year's Wimbledon Championships live in 3D, giving Andy Murray the opportunity to feel like he is actually there.

The matches will be shown in a free-to-air broadcast and will be available to Andy Murray and other viewers if they have access to a 3D TV and HD channels, and do not consider the experience too painful.

Danielle Nagler, head of BBC 3D said, "We wanted to give Andy a more realistic way of experiencing all the drama. It looked like he may have had a chance of reaching the final this year, but Roger Federer's return to form has given him a bit of a wake-up-call and this is our way of softening the blow."

"So Britain's number one will now be able to watch the player that beats him in the semi-final lining up against the player that would've beaten him in the other semi-final – all in glorious 3D."

The giant screen outside Wimbledon showing the view Murray can expect

Experts have said the technological development will see a male British tennis player feel like he is actually in the final for the first time in 75 years.

"There has never been a more exciting time to be a British tennis player with a 3D television." Said Lawn Tennis Associate spokeswoman Laura Williams.

"In many ways, the experience will be even better than playing in it. You'll be cooler, will have drinks on hand, and can switch over to see if there's anything good on the other side whenever you feel like it."

Fans of the Scotsman and other masochists have been assured that all of Andy Murray's matches, including his semi-final defeat, will still be screened in 2D.
