OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

MICRO BOOM TO BOOST TOWN?

■ HUA HIN, THAILAND

The Jazz Festival is here and if you haven't already noticed the town is packed; for details on the festival please grab a copy of our free Special Edition available all over town and throughout the event. As noted a couple of weeks ago, this is one of a series of events which might well be the catalyst to kick start the town's economy, with the elephant polo taking place from 5th September, the ongoing golf festival, and there will also be the return of many 'part time expats' over the next couple of months.

While the town may not return to the tourist heights it reached a few years ago, there are definitely signs that the high season might well exceed the last couple of years, and this will be helped if, as many experts are predicting, the baht weakens against the Euro and other western currencies. The atmosphere of apparent political stability will also encourage people to come to Thailand again.

The recently added attractions to Hua Hin such as the floating markets, new hotels and shopping outlets, slowly improving imfrastructure and the vast range of property available here makes the area more attractive than ever, and it is clear that many big business concerns are eager to be in place as a major boom looms on the horizon. The likelihood of Hua Hin being combined with Cha Am and Pranburi into a new province still appears to be on the cards as well, which would also mean a higher profile as a provincial capital, with all the benefits that would bring in terms of government jobs and increased activity.

We really are at the beginning of an unprecedented opportunity for businesses and individuals in the area, although for many it might not feel like it as we trundle through a very low season. The Jazz Festival will help ease us out of the low and towards the high, so get down to the beach and soak up some sounds!

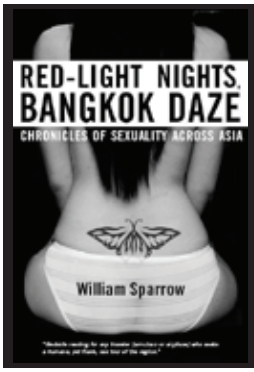
Return Bar is one of only a few bars in Hua Hin that has a full size (9 feet) pool table, as well as a more standard size table for the pool hackers amongst us!

They have a team entered in the Hua Hin Pool Billiards League which plays every Friday (see page 24 for current standings, results and fixtures) and new players are always welcome.

Open every day from late afternoon, Return Bar is a great place to relax away from the hassles of the town centre, and somewhere you will find yourself coming again and again!



Sometimes contradictory, bewildering, revolutionary and hypocritical, Red-Light Nights, Bangkok Daze is a collection of articles on the complex and fascinating world of sex in Asia.

■ Do you wonder why we say certain things, or what they really mean? Each week we will examine a different word or phrase and tell you how it came about.

This week it is.. No laughing matter
Not a subject for levity.
Like 'no holds barred' and 'no room to swing a cat', 'no laughing matter' is almost always expressed as a negative. Comic situations aren't usually referred to as laughing matters. That wasn't always the case - 'laughing matter' was a commonplace idiom before anyone ever thought to make a negative phrase out of it.
The phrase sounds as though it might be of quite recent coinage but in fact it has been known since Tudor days, as in this example where the Bishop of Worcester, Hugh Latimer published a tirade against the selling of religious favours - The seconde sermon preached before the kynges maiestie, 1549:
These sellers of offices shew that they beleue that there is neyther hell nor heauen. It is taken for a laughynge matter.
Edward V, who was king at the time, couldn't have been overly impressed as the selling of favours continued for many years after this sermon was preached.
Latimer was nothing if not persistent and the first instance of 'no laughing matter' is found in John Foxe's reports of his continuing campaign against religious corruption - Actes and monuments touching matters of the Church, 1563:
Then the audience laughed againe, and maister Latimer spake vnto them saying: why my maisters, this is no laughyng matter. I aunsweare vpon life and death.
Latimer was devout and, if contemporary reports are to be believed, of a rather dour disposition - which is appropriate for the chief instigator of a phrase like 'no laughing matter'. His parents considered that he had a "ready, prompt, and sharp wit" but by 'wit' they meant 'intellect' rather than 'humour' and "purposed to train him up in erudition".

An extra phrase this week!
No holds barred
Without restrictions or rules.
The holds here are wrestling holds and that's where the phrase originates. Wrestling has long been an Olympic sport, administrated by FILA, the sport's governing body. There are sets of rules for each of the various styles of wrestling. Prior to the formation of rules, wrestling was a free-form affair. There was no need to mention any such phrase as no holds barred, as that was taken for granted. It wasn't until after the sport became regulated that bouts where those rules didn't apply were billed as such.
The earliest reference I can find to no holds barred is from Manitoba Daily Free Press, February 1892:
"Wm. Gibbs, the Kansas man, and Dennis Gallacher, of Buffalo, engaged in a wrestling match at the opera house here tonight. Gibbs was strangled into insensibility and may die. The conditions of the match were best two in three falls Greco-Roman style; no holds barred."
Forms of contemporary no holds barred wrestling in which rules are thrown out the window are Hardcore Wrestling and Cage Fighting.
Hulk Hogan starred in a 1989 film based on free-form wrestling - 'No Holds Barred'. Its tagline was "No Ring. No Ref. No Rules."

Is there an English phrase or saying that you would like to know more about? Email it to us on submissions@awolonline.net and we will do our best to uncover it's origin.

■ DESERT ISLANDS

On a group of beautiful deserted islands in the middle of nowhere, the following people are suddenly stranded by, as you might expect, a shipwreck:

2 Italian men and 1 Italian woman
2 French men and 1 French woman
2 German men and 1 German woman
2 Greek men and 1 Greek woman
2 English men and 1 English woman
2 Bulgarian men and 1 Bulgarian woman
2 Japanese men and 1 Japanese woman
2 Chinese men and 1 Chinese woman
2 American men and 1 American woman
2 Irish men and 1 Irish woman

One month later on these same absolutely stunning deserted islands in the middle of nowhere, the following things have occurred ...

The TALK OF THE TOWN
Happy Hour 3 - 6pm Everyday
ALL BEERS 50 BAHT
Open from noon 'til late
All Main Sporting Events Live -

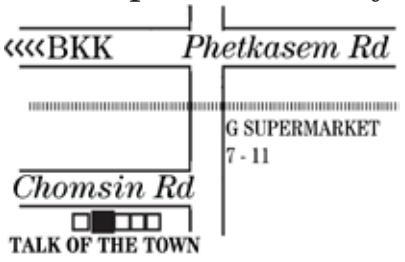
Good Atmosphere - Friendly Staff



- One Italian man killed the other Italian man for the Italian woman.
- The two French men and the French woman are living happily together in a menage-a-trois.
- The two German men have a strict weekly schedule of alternating visits with the German woman
- The two Greek men are sleeping with each other and the Greek woman is cleaning and cooking for them.
- The two English men are waiting for someone to introduce them to the English woman.
- The two Bulgarian men took one long look at the endless ocean, another long look at the Bulgarian woman, and started swimming.
- The two Japanese men have faxed Tokyo and are awaiting instructions.
- The two Chinese men have set up a pharmacy, a liquor store, a restaurant and a laundry, and have got the woman pregnant in order to supply employees for their stores.
- The two American men are contemplating the virtues of suicide because the American woman endlessly complains about her body; the true nature of feminism; how she can do everything they can do; the necessity of fulfillment; the equal division of household chores; how sand and palm trees make her arse look fat; how her last boyfriend respected her opinion and treated her nicer than they do; how her relationship with her mother is improving and how at least the taxes are low and it isn't raining.
- The two Irish men have divided the island into North and South and setup a distillery. They don't remember if sex is in the picture because it gets sort of foggy after the first few liters of coconut whisky. But they're satisfied because at least the English aren't having any fun.

THERE'S A CURRY IN YOUR FUTURE AT S&S

Soi 94 S & S
INDIAN RESTAURANT
Curries from only 75 baht
Eat in or Takeaway 081 455 5298

CAPRICORN DEC 22 - JAN 19

You'll actually have an extremely pleasant day Friday due to the extremely powerful narcotics given to you in the severe burn ward.

AQUARIUS JAN 20 – FEB 18

Be more sensitive to the wishes of others this week, as your indifference to them is affecting your career as a magic-lamp genie.

PISCES FEB 19 – MAR 20

Mars rising in your sign indicates you are something of a coward, mostly because of the way you keep flinching at it.

ARIES MAR 21 – APR 20

The Virgin Mary will appear in a dream and tell you to go forth in the world to help the poor and needy, causing you to wake up screaming in a cold sweat.

TAURUS APR 21 – MAY 21

Your crude and primitive sense of humour will offend lots of people, but just wait until they get a look at your crude and primitive sense of justice.

GEMINI MAY 22 – JUNE 21

You're good at thinking on your feet, which means next week's encounter with the bear trap will leave you somewhat dull-witted in addition to everything else.

CANCER JUN 22 – JUL 22

They say celebrities die in threes, which will be cause for alarm when you achieve sudden fame right after the Tom Cruise/Tilda Swinton murder-suicide.

LEO JUL 23 – AUG 22

You'll learn the value of patience, compassion, and tolerance next week and be rather disappointed that it's actually so low.

VIRGO AUG 23 – SEP 22

Please stop exclaiming "That's my jam!" whenever a good song comes on. Everyone knows you are only allowed one jam.

LIBRA SEP 23 – OCT 23

Disregard your suspicions: People aren't secretly plotting to murder you. You can tell by the open, friendly way they say they will murder you right to your face.

SCORPIO OCT 24 – NOV 21

You used to think you were pretty dark on the inside, but a run-in with a pavement saw will prove there's plenty of purple, green, and translucent bits in you too.

SAGITTARIUS NOV 22 – DEC 21

You'll finally decide to try that new restaurant around the corner this week, thrilling the stars to no end, as they were wondering if you were ever going to give them something to say.

■ BEDFORD, ENGLAND Doormat handed eviction notice

A humble 1cm doormat in Bedfordshire has been handed an eviction notice and risks losing its spot outside a flat.

The doormat located in Albert Street, Bedford, was adjudged to be a fire hazard by Bedfordshire Pilgrims Housing Association (BPHA) - the body which runs the two-floor apartment block.

Renter of the flat in question, Lubin Reyes, a 37-year-old currency broker, discovered warning tape across the doormat urging him to 'move it or lose it'.

Mr Reyes, who has lived in the first floor apartment for more than a decade, told the Daily Mail: 'Someone is being paid to walk around and do this. It's ridiculous. I can't understand what they are thinking, it my doorstep and my doormat.

'I need to wipe the soles of my shoes dry or I might fall over in my house then that would be health and safety issue.

'It's right at the end of a corridor so its not like people will be rushing past it. It's about one centimetre high and made of rubber. It had "move it or lose it" written on it, that's like a threat.

'It's like they are saying don't mess with us but it's only a doormat. I was very shocked that they would act in this way for something as minor as a doormat.'

BPHA says it stands by the decision and claims the doormat could trip people in case of a fire.

Mr Reyes, however, will defy the order plans to keep the mat.

■ KENTUCKY, USA Patient sues after 'doctor took off his penis without asking'

American truck driver Phillip Seaton is suing a Kentucky surgeon after the medic amputated his penis without permission.

Mr Seaton, 64, had agreed to have an operation in 2007, but was only scheduled to have a circumcision to relieve inflammation to the organ.

However, once underway, Dr John Patterson said he found a rare and deadly cancer on Mr Seaton's penis, and he took the 'life-saving' decision to remove it.

Dr Patterson says he removed less than an inch of the penis, and the rest was amputated by another doctor. Four photos of Mr Seaton's crotch were shown to jurors, clearly showing the organ had been removed.

Mr Seaton told the court about his reaction when awoke from the operation: saying: 'I pulled the dressing down, and I didn't see nothing.

'Then I came out of the restroom and I said, "I'm getting the hell out of this damn hospital".'

Mr Seaton and his wife Deborah are now suing Dr Patterson for 'loss of service, love and affection' after the organ's removal, seeking unspecified damages.

Mrs Seaton insists that Dr Patterson did not consult her over the procedure. 'It's his body,' she said in court. 'He should have a say in it.'

Dr Patterson responded by claiming that he did not think it wise to get permission from the patient's wife.

'My impression was she would not be someone I would ask what he would want,' he explained.

Testimonies in the case resumed this week.

FEATURED GAME

ENGLISH PREMIER LEAGUE
SATURDAY, 27 AUGUST 2011
Aston Villa v Wolverhampton, 18:05
Villa Park, Birmingham

While league tables are notoriously misleading at this stage of the season, this is a top four clash and a Midlands derby to boot between two undefeated sides.

Mick McCarthy must be delighted at how his side are performing and in particular that they have beaten two sides that are probably vying for similar mid table positions come the end of the season.

Villa, on the other hand, have played the same two sides but with the home and aways reversed. Alex McCleish will know full well the importance of this game to the fans, and if he can win here will go a long way to appeasing them, as the former Birmingham manager was not a popular choice, despite (and because of) relegating their city rivals.

This is likely to be a fast paced physical game with lots of incident; both teams are confident and scoring goals, but derby matches frequently end up as stalemates. However we think that Wolves just have the edge and will sneak this one by the odd goal.

GUNNERS FINALLY HAVE SOMETHING TO SMILE ABOUT

ADEBAYOR TO REPAY ARSENAL BY SIGNING FOR SPURS

■ ENGLAND

TECTONIC striker Emmanuel Adebayor's loan move to Spurs has apparently been done to cheer up Arsenal fans.

The Togolese perpetual inertia machine left Arsenal as part of Manchester City's bid to buy every striker in the world in alphabetical order, but wants to thank them for all the years of mooching around the six yard box for 80 grand a week.

Footballologist Wayne Hayes said: "When Bale crosses the ball in the 89th minute of a 0-0 north London derby and, instead of being in the box to head it in, Adebayor is sat next to Redknapp in a woolly hat listening to his stereo, you feel a hatchet will finally be buried."

"They've had very little to cheer about recently at the Emirates, but I think the sight of him curled up like a cat in the centre circle wearing a Spurs shirt will be just the fillip they need."

Left: Adebayor reacts to the news that he will be allowed to carry on sleeping following his medical

Adebayor will undergo a medical before the transfer takes place, with doctors being warned that it is entirely normal for him to have a resting heart rate of 1.4 beats per minute and for his blood to be made primarily from Horlicks.

If the proposed loan deal is completed in time, he could make his debut against Manchester City, leaning against the goal post chatting to Joe Hart about shoes while his new team mates remonstrate furiously with him.

Adebayor said: "The two managers are discussing a deal but I don't know an awful lot about it because I'm really sleepy.

"But if it goes ahead it would be great to give something back to the Arsenal fans, even if that something is nine months' worth of teeth-grindingly infuriating idleness to their biggest rivals."
