SHOCKING IVORY THEFT

ATTACK ON BULL ELEPHANT AT CHARITY FOUNDATION IN HUA HIN

■ HUA HIN, THAILAND

AWOL received a shocking press release this week from the Hutsadin Elephant Foundation about the theft of the ivory tusks from one of their elephants, as follows:

"During the course of the night of the 6/7 October intruders entered the Hutsadin Elephant Foundation situated just outside Hua Hin and attacked 'Sang Chan' a 24 year old Bull Elephant, who had been separated from the rest of the residents as he was in musk. It would appear that the culprits sedated him before removing both his tusks close to their roots.

The elephant is fortunately still alive but is in a bad way having lost a considerable amount of blood and is receiving veterinary care. Because of the nature of this attack it could so easily have caused his death. The Hua Hin police are investigating this heinous crime against a gentle creature who has provided so much pleasure for so many visitors to the Foundation.

The obvious motive for this crime is the theft of the ivory, which is a banned trade throughout the world. A conservative estimate of the value of these tusks is in excess of TB1 million.

Everyone who works at the Foundation is shocked and sickened by what we have witnessed.

The Foundation is a registered charity set up by 3 local businessmen to rescue and provide a place for old, injured and exploited elephants who can either no longer work and in some cases are abandoned by their owners or sold to the Foundation. It is situated close to the Shrine dedicated to the 5 brave Thai soldiers, who convinced the attacking Burmese forces that they were much greater in number thus buying valuable time enabling the Thai army to regroup and eventually defeat the invaders.

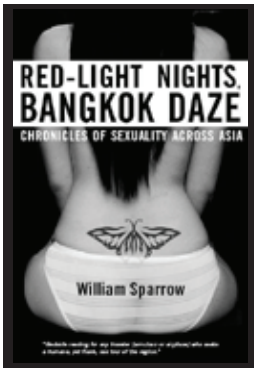
Return Bar is one of only a few bars in Hua Hin that has a full size (9 feet) pool table, as well as a more standard size table for the pool hackers amongst us!

They have a team entered in the Hua Hin Pool Billiards League which plays every Friday (see page 24 for current standings, results and fixtures) and new players are always welcome.

Open every day from late afternoon, Return Bar is a great place to relax away from the hassles of the town centre, and somewhere you will find yourself coming again and again!



Sometimes contradictory, bewildering, revolutionary and hypocritical, Red-Light Nights, Bangkok Daze is a collection of articles on the complex and fascinating world of sex in Asia.

The Foundation has been chosen by Her Majesty The Queen's Project as the site of a new Craft Centre, which will be opening shortly.

The Foundation relies heavily on donations, sponsorship and the money raised from visitors to the centre all of which is ploughed back into the welfare of these wonderful animals. At present we are trying to raise over 450,000 baht to pay for an elephant bought to the centre in a bad state of health as well as raise a further 100,000 baht to complete essential work for a water system for the elephants in addition to a better bathing facility for them.

Further funds are also needed to provide better sheltered accommodation for them and to construct a moveable rig with a motorised lifting system to help elephants get back on their feet, when they are too old to be able to do it themselves.

This attack will divert much needed funds away from the primary objective so that 'Sang Chan' can receive proper veterinary care to help him recover and regain his former majestic self."

BEFORE AND AFTER

Above: Sang Chan as he was prior to the brutal attack

Left and below: The mutilated look of the poor elephant after the attacks; you can clearly see the blood covering most of his trunk

■ Do you wonder why we say certain things, or what they really mean? Each week we will examine a different word or phrase and tell you how it came about.

This week it is.. Cash on the nail
Payment made immediately.
'Cash on the nail' (or 'pay on the nail') are extensions of the earlier phrase - 'on the nail', meaning immediate payment; without delay. This expression is first recorded in English in Thomas Nashe's Haue with you to Saffron-Walden, 1596:
"Tell me, haue you a minde to anie thing in the Doctors Booke! speake the word, and I will help you to it vpon the naile."
Philip Massinger's comic play The City-Madame, 1632, in which a character welcomes the arrival of a ship that has given his master considerable profit, makes the association with timeliness clear:
And it comes timely; For, besides a payment on the nail for a manor late purchased by my master, his young daughters are ripe for marriage.
The first example that can be found of the longer 'cash on the nail' version is in an anonymous open letter to the Mayor of Exeter, printed on a sixpenny broadsheet in 1753:
The Commanders and Officers of those vessels knew very well that Wool and Worsted were Commodities of a real and intrinsic Value: Articles that would sell at any Time or Place for ready Cash on the Nail.
We've managed to get this far without mentioning the story that 'cash on the nail' relates to the bronze pillars, called nails. These are to be seen outside the Corn Exchange in Bristol and the Stock Exchanges in Limerick and Liverpool. This derivation is printed in virtually every etymological reference book. Whisper it not in Bristol, Limerick or Liverpool but this story has to be treated with some caution.
It is said that the oldest of the four pillars in Bristol is mid-16th century and so would just pre-date the earliest printed reference to 'on the nail'. It is also true that business deals were sealed on these pillars. The late dates of the appearance of either or the terms cash on the nail and pay on the nail, make the attribution doubtful. None of the early printed references make any reference to any of the cities with nails. The first time the suggested link between the bronze nails and the phrase was made was in 1870, by Dr Cobham Brewer in the first edition of the Dictionary of Phrase and Fable. That suggestion was made over a century after the phrase was already in common use. There's not quite enough evidence to say that Brewer made the story up, but it does seem to be a strong possibility.
It is more likely that the nails were named to match the expression rather than the other way around and that the origin of the expression lies in France rather than the west coats of either England or Ireland.
Versions of the were used in several European languages:
14th century Anglo-Norman, as payer sur le ungle - to pay immediately.
17th century French, as sur l'ongle - exactly.
Dutch, as op den nagel - on the nail
German, as auf den Nagel - entirely, to the last detail.
The Anglo-Norman 'payer sur le ungle' means just the same as the English 'pay on the nail'. 'Ungle' derives from the Latin 'ungula', which means claw or nail. The sense of the earliest version of the phrase is clearly 'payment with the hand' - nothing to do with bronze obelisks.
By around 1900 the US also began to use 'cash on the barrel' and 'cash on the barrelhead', with the same meaning as 'cash on the nail'. That has a much stronger claim to have a literal derivation, as barrels were used as impromptu counters in US stores and yard sales.

CAPRICORN DEC 22 - JAN 19

You'll experience a breathtaking whirlwind romance this week when it's endlessly recounted by a long-winded co-worker.

AQUARIUS JAN 20 – FEB 18

You've avoided throwing the baby out with the bathwater. However, you're now left with the problem of how to dispose of a clean but rapidly drying baby.

PISCES FEB 19 – MAR 20

You won't be thanked for helping to solve a major social problem when people decide to give all the credit to the guy who made the bumper sticker.

ARIES MAR 21 – APR 20

The inexorable power of destiny would render you powerless to stop the fateful events of next week, were anything ever to actually happen to you.

TAURUS APR 21 – MAY 21

You've always believed you should go with your gut in important matters, which is why every major decision in your life has been accompanied by chili-cheese fries.

GEMINI MAY 22 – JUNE 21

Although you've always claimed you'd quit when you thought you'd reached your peak, you'll find it easy to keep going when no one seems to think you'll ever improve.

CANCER JUN 22 – JUL 22

You take pride in being able to take whatever life throws at you, but you really weren't expecting this many opossums.

LEO JUL 23 – AUG 22

After all you've been through, it's nice to know that lightning doesn't strike twice. Strangely, it turns out that's not true for falling safes or pianos.

VIRGO AUG 23 – SEP 22

You've tried leaving poems at the scene, leaving signature marks, and only working on Sundays, but the papers insist on merely calling you "The Nickname-less Killer."

LIBRA SEP 23 – OCT 23

You've always had a strong fight-or-flight reflex, which turns out to be completely useless when negotiating for the best price on a bedroom set.

SCORPIO OCT 24 – NOV 21

You've finally risen to the top of your profession only to find the world's other 450,000 deep-fryer operators are pretty much there, too.

SAGITTARIUS NOV 22 – DEC 21

■ WHY DID THE CHICKEN CROSS THE ROAD?

GEORGE W. BUSH
We don't really care why the chicken crossed the road. We just want to know if the chicken is on our side of the road or not. The chicken is either with us or it is against us. There is no middle ground here.

COLIN POWELL
Now at the left of the screen, you clearly see the satellite image of the chicken crossing the road.

HANS BLIX
We have reason to believe there is a chicken, but we have not yet been allowed access to the other side of the road.

SADDAM HUSSEIN
This was an unprovoked act of rebellion and we were quite justified in dropping 50 tons of nerve gas on it.

JACQUES CHIRAC
We are chickens, and will veto any resolution that may force us to cross a road. It isn't safe.

DR. SEUSS
Did the chicken cross the road?
Did he cross it with a toad?
Yes, The chicken crossed the road,
But why it crossed, I've not been told!

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.
I envisage a world where all chickens will be free to cross roads without having their motives called into question.

GRANDPA
In my day, we didn't ask why the chicken crossed the road. Someone told us that the chicken crossed the road, and that was good enough for us.

ARISTOTLE
It is the nature of chickens to cross the road.

KARL MARX
It was an historical inevitability.

VOLTAIRE
I may not agree with what the chicken did, but I will defend to the death its right to do it.

RONALD REAGAN
What? chicken?

ALBERT EINSTEIN
Did the chicken really cross the road or did the road move beneath the chicken?

BILL CLINTON
I did not cross the road with THAT chicken. What do you mean by chicken? Could you define chicken, please?

COLONEL SANDERS
I missed one?

■ ALFRETON, UK Thorntons breaks biggest chocolate bar world record with six tonne beast

Chocolate maker Thorntons has broken the record for the world's largest chocolate bar after creating a monster that weighs almost six tonnes (5,792.5kgs) - measuring in at four metres wide by four metres long.

Thorntons produced the mega bar to celebrate its 100th birthday - and judging by the size of the super snack there'll be a lot of bulging stomachs as a result of this confectionary construction.

The idea for the record breaking bar came from a chocolate loving employee who was a big fan of Charlie and the Chocolate Factory.

Paul Bell, from Thorntons said: "All staff were asked to come up with ideas of how we should celebrate our 100th birthday and, because Charlie and the Chocolate Factory was my favourite film as a child, I immediately thought of a scene from the film where a bar of chocolate was shrunk and I thought - "wouldn't it be fantastic to do the reverse and make the world's largest bar of chocolate".'

The previous record was held by American confectionery maker World's Finest Chocolate, who managed to create a treat weighing in at an impressive five-and-a-half tonnes (5,529.29kg).

Thorntons Master Chocolatier, Keith Hurdman, said: 'It's been one of the biggest challenges we've ever had to face here at Thorntons, and has put all of our chocolate-making expertise to the test.

'I'm really proud of all of the team; it's taken months of planning and over 50 people were involved in the making of it so the Guinness World Records title is a fantastic achievement and a great way to celebrate our 100th birthday.'

The giant bar has been unveiled to coincide with Chocolate Week, which runs from October 10 to October 16,

The public can get in on the act and sample the record breaking choc when it is broken up and sold in Thortons stores in the coming weeks.

WEBB'S WINING

FROM THE PEN OF LORD WEBB

The Lord Webb
Bar & Restaurant
089 049 2141 (Tui)
or 089 548 8003 (Robert)

"A life without wine is a life not worth living", but by making the right choices you can keep the calories down. I have tried to cut down on many things over the last few years to lose weight, I've exercised, cut down on fatty foods, reduced the beer intake even, but one thing I've not done is cut back on wine.

"Wine is fattening" says my good chum Clive, who since he retired has gone in to Nutrition, when I mention this. "Although there are no fats in wine, it definitely contributes to a persons daily calorie intake with calories coming from both the sugar in the wine and the alcohol".

A fair point, but losing weight is a psychological process and I would feel seriously deprived if I were to give up wine, whereas skipping spuds is not a hardship or shouldn't be. Of course, this all depends on what your tipple is as exactly how many calories you will be consuming. An average woman needs 2000 calories per day and a man 2500 and, tempting though it is, we can't take up this allocation entirely with wine. A small (125 ml) glass of dry white wine will have around 85 calories, medium-dry will have around 95 and sweet about 120. A large glass of red wine will also have 120 calories whilst a pint of Guinness or Kilkenny 170.

"Did you realise that drinking wine with a meal can add up to between 300 to 400 extra calories, roughly equivalent to an extra ham sandwich a day. These can be often forgotten calories" so Clive informs me. Some believe the alcoholic calories should be on the label, others do not, such as Gavin Partington of The Wine & Spirit Trade Association. "Listing the calorific content of wines raises the possibility that people can misuse the information. We don't want people for example to miss a meal to have a few extra glasses of wine instead. We would argue that it's much better to have wine alongside food,it tastes better and it is better for you."

For Champagne lovers, go for a Brut or Extra Brut which has about 65 calories per 125 ml glass.

In calorific terms; A 125 ml glass of champagne = half an avocado; A 125 ml glass of dry white wine = 2 crepes/pancakes; A 175 ml glass of red wine = 1 slice of takeaway pizza; A pint of Guinness = 1 portion of Parmesan cheese; A pub size gin & tonic = 1 bowl of fish soup.

So now you know!

Until next time - Cheers!

Sunday, 9th October 2011, till Thursday, 3rd November 2011, daily from 9 am till 6 pm
This show is a black and white photography exhibition in the various styles of a Thai graphic designer who relocated to the US years ago. Miranti Borvornsin's "East meets West" perspective has been enjoyed by Americans in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago and New York over the years.
All pictures are limited edition prints and almost all of them are for sale. Half of the profits will be donated to the Dhamma Foundation, the other half to World Vision.

UPCOMING

Fringe Festival – Three Sisters at the Vic Hua Hin. Saturday, 12th November 2011, 7.30 pm
The Japanese contemporary dance-theatre company, Pappa Tarahumara, re-interprets Antoon Chekov's literary classic set in the rural Japan during the 1960s. It's seemingly sweet portrayal of three bored sisters grappling with womanhood spirals in to a sensual and charged meditation on female identity, coming-of-age and the Japanese obsession with youth culture. This eccentric comic tragedy, narrated through dynamic choreography, is a powerfully condensed alternative to the company's larger scale multi-disciplinary works.
Tickets for 900, 700 and 500 Baht (students 50 % discount) available at Vic Hua Hin: 032-827-814 to 815.
More information on the Fringe Festival on page 12.

AMT works under the direct supervision of a fully qualified, American Doctor (MD), who is available for a free and full consultation prior to any procedure. We understand that every patient is different and this ensures that every treatment proposed is the correct one for each individual. Using ground breaking technology we harvest stem cells from your own body fat, thus eliminating the risk of rejection and overcoming any moral or ethical concerns.
During the harvesting procedure (mini-liposuction) the only drug used is a local anaesthetic which minimises any possibility of side-effects. Once harvested, the stem cells are separated from your own body fat, isolated, activated and then infused as required. We guarantee that no embryo or bone marrow stem cells are used in any AMT procedures.

"You have earned it, now enjoy life..."

How do stem cells work? They are the bodies building blocks which rebuild damaged tissue, blood vessels etc, by being attracted to inflammation and allowing your body to regenerate naturally.

FEATURED GAME

PREMIER LEAGUE
SATURDAY, 15 OCTOBER 2011
PREMIER LEAGUE
Liverpool v Man Utd, 18:45
Anfield, Liverpool
Always a huge game when these great rivals meet, and Thai fans are particularly drawn to it. The Red Devils have been impressive at the start of this season, but it is actually unusual for them to start so well, as they are renowned for their normally strong finish to the season. Liverpool are not yet completely clicking but the return of Steven Gerrard may well be the final piece, and we wouldn't be at all surprised to see him celebrate this with a trademark screamer.
Rooney's red card for England, and his father's problems might see him dropped to the bench for this one we think, with Ferguson potentially springing a tactical surprise. This will be United's sternest test of the season so far, and we are predicting their first defeat, albeit a narrow one.

ROONEY TUNES - that's all folks

BENCHED WAYNE SET TO DELIVER MOST EFFECTIVE ENGLAND DISPLAY IN YEARS

■ LONDON, ENGLAND

Wayne Rooney is primed to deliver a string of his most effective England performances in years after manager Fabio Capello revealed he would be benching the striker for the build-up to Euro 2012 after being sent off in Montenegro on Friday.

The Italian was adamant the Manchester United marksman would not be part of his plans for the upcoming friendly against Spain citing the necessity to give a run out to other English players just as well versed in failing to deliver on their limited potential.

He told reporters at a post match press conference, 'You know with Rooney, it was a shame for him and for us.'

'It was exactly the sort of fully committed kick that I had been desperately seeking of him with the ball at his feet in an important game for a long, long time.

'But it has been at least six years since I have seen such a performance yet i still repeatedly pick him.'

'This at least gives me the opportunity to test things I would never have had the balls to try if Rooney hadn't made such a foolish mistake.'

Capello denied he had made a mistake in picking the Scouser following the arrest of his father in a police betting probe.

'No, for me, Rooney was in perfect condition for this game.'

'I think he was only angry that his father hadn't told him of the 10-1 readily available on that Motherwell player getting sent off.'

'10-1 on a Scotsman being aggressive?'

'Amazing'
