GET FRESH AT THE WEEKEND!

LATIN DANCE CLASSES, ARTS & CRAFTS AND MORE AT THE VIC WEEKEND SCHOOL

■ HUA HIN, THAILAND

Ever since it opened the Vic Hua Hin has brought a myriad of theatre, dance and other musical attractions to the town, and providing a much needed cultural outlet. With their recently announced 'Weekend School' they are now also giving Hua Hin a place for people of all ages to indulge in artistic pursuits themselves.

One example is Latin Ballroom Dancing, with classes being offered every Friday at 5pm with teacher San Pho On, South East Asia Champion and Asia Pacific Champion in Latin Dance. For only 300 Baht everybody gets fun, exercise and new friends in a beautiful environment. (No reservation necessary. For more information ask Khun Chris at Vic Hua Hin: marketing@vichuahin.com).

No matter whether you are thinking about enjoying arts for fun and pleasure, exposing children to nurture their creative minds, catching glimpses of Thai culture during your trip or aspiring to develop yourself professionally as an artist, Vic Hua Hin Weekend School will be an ideal choice to cater for various needs.

Other classes are offered in Clay sculpting, painting, drawing, batik, piano, trumpet, guitar, singing, languages (Thai, English, Japanese), Thai cooking and also acrobatic classes for children. Every class is available for adults or kids.

For more information on events, classes and times, check www.vichuahin.com or call them on 032 827 814-5. The Vic Hua Hin is located only a few minutes south of Hua Hin on the main road a few hundred metres on from the flyover - see the venue guide on page 17 for more detailed directions.

Return Bar is one of only a few bars in Hua Hin that has a full size (9 feet) pool table, as well as a more standard size table for the pool hackers amongst us! They have a team entered in the Hua Hin Pool Billiards League which plays every Friday (see page 28 for current standings, results and fixtures) and new players are always welcome. Open every day from late afternoon, Return Bar is a great place to relax away from the hassles of the town centre, and somewhere you will find yourself coming again and again!

Sometimes contradictory, bewildering, revolutionary and hypocritical, Red-Light Nights, Bangkok Daze is a collection of articles on the complex and fascinating world of sex in Asia.

About the Author

William Sparrow is a journalist based in Asia.
He has a regular column, "Sex in Depth," in Asia Times Online, and is the editor of AsianSexGazette.com.
The book is available online or at local bookstores (such as Bookazine – above McDonald's on Damnoernkasem Road).

■ Do you wonder why we say certain things, or what they really mean? Each week we will examine a different word or phrase and tell you how it came about.

This week it is.. For good measure
As an additional extra.
'Good measure' has been part of the language since the first English-speaking 'purveyor of fyne goodes' set up shop, and it just means 'an ample or generous quantity of that which is sold by measure'.
The first instance of the expression in print is found where many other first coinages originated, in John Wyclif's Middle English translation of the Bible, circa 1384, in Luke 6:38:
Thei schulen yyue in to youre bosum a good mesure, and wel fillid, and schakun togidir, and ouerflowynge; for bi the same mesure, bi whiche ye meeten, it schal be metun ayen to you.
[They shall give into your bosom a good measure, and well-filled, and shaken together, and overflowing; for by the same measure, by which ye mete, it shall be meted again to you.]
We might expect the extended term 'in good measure' to refer to an abundance of something. In fact, its rather the reverse. 'Measured' also means 'moderate; restrained' and if a person acts 'in good measure' they are being especially temperate in their actions. As it happens, Wyclif was also one of the first to put that meaning of 'good measure' into print, in a collection of sermons known as Controversial Tracks, circa 1400, which was directed at the clergy:
Ye shulden lyue on ye puple in good mesure as Paul biddin.
[You be sustained by the people in moderation, as St. Paul bids you.]
It wasn't until much later that the use of the phrase 'good measure' returned to its original 'ample' meaning.
In the 19th century people began to express the idea of things being 'thrown in for good measure', that is, added as a complimentary extra portion. In 1811, the British mathematician Patrick Kelly wrote The Universal Cambist, which was an exhaustive study of the weights and measures in use in different parts of the world and a method of converting from one to another. In the notes on Swedish measurement he included:
Corn, and other dry commodities, are measured by Tunnor. The Tunne is divided into 32 Kappar. But to every Tunna of wheat 4 Kappar are allowed for good measure.
Before long, the expression 'for good measure' began to be used figuratively, that is, in circumstances where no actual measurement was taking place. An example appears in the May 1850 edition of the American magazine Littell's Living Age, in a report of a public flogging in California:
'Give him another for good measure' - 'Hit him again' - were the sounds which greeted his ears.
'For good measure' might appear to be linked to the 'Baker's dozen', as both phrases express the notion of a little extra being added above the absolute requirement. In fact, the two phrases aren't connected, 'Baker's dozen' being much older. While the extra that was added 'for good measure' was added willingly, the extra that made up a Baker's dozen was added under threat of severe punishment. In mediaeval England, being light in the loaves was as risky as being 'light in the loafers' was prior to the decriminalisation of homosexuality in the 1967 Sexual Offences Act.

YOURSTARS

THERE'S A CURRY IN YOUR FUTURE AT S&S

Soi 94 S & S
INDIAN RESTAURANT
Curries from only 75 baht
Eat in or Takeaway 081 455 5298

CAPRICORN DEC 22 - JAN 19

They may not look that great, but they're not transmissible to sexual partners, and you can always find someone who's into genital stalactites.

AQUARIUS JAN 20 – FEB 18

You had no idea the cheetah's feces-elimination process was so loud, so violent, and so frequently what was keeping you awake at night.

PISCES FEB 19 – MAR 20

Decide to make the world a better place this week, but not before making sure your stuff goes to the right charities and surviving friends.

ARIES MAR 21 – APR 20

Sleep will continue to elude you this week, so keep binging on coffee and amphetamines until you have enough energy to catch it.

TAURUS APR 21 – MAY 21

You're not the sort of person who panics easily, which will keep you from getting on TV following next week's volcano disaster.

GEMINI MAY 22 – JUNE 21

You're finally ready to put the entire sordid incident behind you, but it's getting another 50,000 YouTube hits a day.

CANCER JUN 22 – JUL 22

TMitochondria are passed on through the mother, which is probably why your cells don't understand what you do for a living and are wondering when you'll meet somebody special.

LEO JUL 23 – AUG 22

Remember, only you can make yourself feel bad, but it's important to let people know how much you appreciate their help with it.

VIRGO AUG 23 – SEP 22

It's cute to get a note asking "Do you like me?" including two boxes to check, but the White House stationery makes it a little disturbing.

LIBRA SEP 23 – OCT 23

You'll be called in for the 20th week in a row to testify before a council of your peers on whether or not punk is in fact dead.

SCORPIO OCT 24 – NOV 21

The stars have something important to tell you, but first you must apologize for once again forgetting Lou Rawls' birthday.

SAGITTARIUS NOV 22 – DEC 21

You'll be taken completely by surprise when the Maritime Administration declares you a derelict hulk and has you broken up for scrap.

MEN RELEASE NEW RULES

We always hear 'the rules' from the female side. Now here are the Rules from the male side. Here are our rules:-

Please note.... these are all numbered '1' ON PURPOSE!

1. Breasts are for looking at and that is why we do it. Don't try to change that.

1. Learn to work the toilet seat. You're a big girl. If its up, put it down. We need it up, you need it down. You don't hear us complaining about you leaving it down.

1. Saturday = Sports. Its like the full moon or the changing of the tides. Let it be.

1. Shopping is NOT a sport. and no, we are never going to think of it that way.

1. Crying is blackmail.

1. Ask for what you want. Let us be clear on this one: subtle hints do not work! strong hints do not work! obvious hints do not work! Just say it!

1. Yes and No are perfectly acceptable answers to almost every question.

1. Come to us with a problem only if you want help solving it. That's what we do. Sympathy is what your girlfriends are for.

1. A headache that lasts for 17 months is a problem. See a doctor.

1. Anything we said 6 months ago is inadmissible in an argument. In fact, all comments become null and void after 7 days.

1. If you think you are fat, you probably are. Don't ask us.

1. If something we said can be interpreted two ways, and one of the ways makes you sad or angry, we meant the other one.

1. You can either ask us to do something or tell us how you want it done. Not both. If you already know best how to do it, just do it yourself.

1. Whenever possible, please say whatever you have to say during commercials.

1. Christopher Columbus did not need directions and neither do we.

1. ALL men see in only 16 colours, like Windows default settings. Peach, for example, is a fruit, not a colour. Pumpkin is also a fruit. We have no idea what Mauve is.

1. If it itches, it will be scratched. We do that.

1. If we ask what is wrong and you say 'nothing', we will act like nothing's wrong. We know you are lying, but it is just not worth the hassle.

1. If you ask a question you don't want an answer to, expect an answer you don't want to hear.

1. When we have to go somewhere, absolutely anything you wear is fine. Really.

1. Don't ask us what we are thinking about unless you are prepared to discuss such topics as Sex, Sport, or Cars.

1. You have enough clothes.

1. You have too many shoes.

1. I am in shape. Round is a shape.

■ ENGLAND First ever World Watching Paint Dry Championships to be held in UK

Apparently the most boring thing to do is watch paint dry so what better test of endurance and concentration than the World Watching Paint Dry Championships, which are due to be held in the UK next year.

Those looking to compete in the championships must send in a picture of themselves watching paint dry and state the longest time they've managed to stare at a wall of drying paint without looking away.

They will also need to tell organisers what their favourite colour is and why. A shortlist will then be drawn up and those contestants will be invited to attend an ultimate final in front of media at a location in central England.

A spokesman for the organisers LocalTraders.com said: 'We've all heard the phrase, "I'd rather watch paint dry" and so we have decided the time has come to give people the chance to do so, for as long as they can bear. You don't need to be physically fit or participate in a vigorous training regime, what's more important is mental strength, concentration and endurance. '

■ HERTFORDSHIRE, ENGLAND Giant inflatable Santa Claus rips tiles off Hertfordshire pub roof

Landlord Andrew Marler has had his pub partially demolished by a 30ft tall inflatable Santa Claus. Strong winds have caused the Santa to pull down tiles from the roof of the Old Manor pub in Potters Bar.

But Mr Marler is keen to keep his £3,000 decoration. However, he is fully aware of the damage it has caused: 'When it is really windy it causes the whole pub to violently shake from side to side and makes a deafening creaking noise. It once created so much force that it actually ripped the mooring ropes out of the walls.'

The sky-high Santa lights up at night and is so colossal it can be seen by passing planes. Mr Marler believes it was worth every penny. He said: 'Children ask their parents to take a detour on their way home from school to look at it and commuters can see it from the train.'

58-year-old Mr Marler has been allowed to keep his unique Christmas decoration on the grounds that it remains safe.

FEATURED GAME

MONDAY, 19 DECEMBER 2011
FRENCH LIGUE 1
Paris SG v Lille, 03:00
Parc des Princes, Paris, France
This week we have a look at a game in the French league between second placed PSG and third placed Lille - a win for either combined with a loss for leaders Montpelier (playing Toulouse) will see them top of the table as the league takes it's winter break.
PSG are the French equivalent of Manchester City in that they have recently been taken over by a rich Arab company (Qatar Investment Authority) and are now among the richest clubs in the world. Lille are the current champions and their success has been based on attractive attacking play, and they have in their ranks some sought after players such as the young Belgian Eden Hazard. They also attracted Liverpool's Joe Cole on loan and it seems like it has been a good move for both parties.
This will be a close game - Lille are undefeated away although half of those games ended in draws. We think this will be a high scoring draw leaving both teams unmoved in the table.

WHO NEEDS EUROPE?

ALEX FERGUSON TO ADVISE DAVID CAMERON ON EUROPEAN EXITS THAT DELIGHT A NATION

■ MANCHESTER, ENGLAND

Manchester United manager Sir Alex Ferguson is to advise David Cameron on the best way to leave Europe whilst simultaneously delighting the vast majority of people who watch you doing it.

After vetoing the latest EU bill, Cameron has come under some criticism for putting the banks ahead of EU stability, and has called in Sir Alex Ferguson to make his European exit seem much more palatable.

A Whitehall insider explained, "Manchester United went out of Europe last Wednesday, yet the whole country was smiling whilst they did it. Simply put, David wants some of that."

"He wants to back out, and have the whole country behind him laughing whilst he does so. And who better to help you with that than Manchester United?"

Left: Out of Europe? You're having a laugh! Sir Alex Ferguson reminds everyone that United wanted to be in the Europa League as they have never won it

Experts have said the governments move is a good one, and that if there was one organisation as universally unpopular as the coalition government, it was Manchester United.

A Manchester United spokesperson said, "Sir Alex's first words were, 'you need to make everyone think you believe you're absolutely entitled to be in Europe' – that will amplify any sense of schadenfreude when you leave'."

"That's really good advice, I'm sure you'll agree."

"If Manchester United had wanted to be out of Europe, then I'm sure you can imagine how disappointed people would have been that they were out of Europe."

"As it is, most people are still laughing a week later."
