DIAMOND CITY

THOUSANDS TO ARRIVE IN CHA AM FOR BIG BIKE RALLY

■ CHA AM, THAILAND

Over three thousand motorbikes are expected to arrive in Cha Am during next week to attend the annual bike rally which will be held next to the Methavalai Hotel opposite the beach in Hua Hin's near neighbour. According to local bikers, the rally is normally larger than the annual event in Hua Hin.

The Diamond City MC is being held for the eighth time and motorbikes of all shapes and sizes will be on display as well as a huge array of food stalls, motorbike gear, parts, accessories, clothing and motorbike paraphernalia. The event is on Saturday 3rd November, and the festivities conclude with a night party of Live Music featuring superstar Thai entertainers and fireworks. Everyone is welcome, whether they are bikers or not, so take the family and and enjoy some Cha Am hospitality.

One of AWOL's partners, and official local contact in Cha Am, The Cha Am Pub and Restaurant is also offering a 10% discount off drinks to all MC Members on both Saturday and Sunday. (For more information call 081 745 2655 and for accommodation enquiries call 042 251 0857). For more Cha Am news and information, please turn to pages 12, 13 and 14 where you will find our new Cha Am section, including a map of the town marked with some official offices as well as the places that you can now pick up your copy of AWOL.

It will be a busy few weeks for motorbike enthusiasts as at the end of November/start of December the Hua Hin Bike Week is taking place at it's usual location along the canal road. We will bring you more details of the event nearer the time, but as with the Cha Am event it is celebrating it's eighth year.

■ SAN ANTONIO, USA Woman 'fakes own kidnapping to get day off work'

A woman in the US could be in hot water after being accused of faking her own kidnapping just to get a day off work. Sheila Bailey Eubank from San Antonio is believed to have gone to the rather extreme measure of kidnapping herself for a day off. However she claims that a man abducted her and forced her to drive him to various locations for what she says were drug deals. She also claims that the man assaulted her, tried to choke her with a rope, tied her up and left her in the car before a policeman on patrol eventually found her.

However, officers have since found a lottery ticket that was purchased within the hours that she claims she was kidnapped, as well as CCTV footage buying it which shows her 'healthy, unhurried, and pleasant with the clerk'. Police have also reviewed footage from the Security Service Federal Credit Union where Eubank claimed she was abducted. While it does show that she withdrew money from the ATM there, police say there were no signs that anyone else was with her.

According to police, when Eubank was confronted by investigators, she admitted to making up the story, saying she wanted attention and a day off work.

■ OREGON, USA Police take hamster into 'protective custody' after arresting owner

Officers in Oregon, pulled over a car in the early hours of Tuesday morning because they believed the driver to be impaired, Beaverton police spokesman Mike Rowe said. After a chat with the driver, 27-year-old Nicole Huey, the policemen realised that she was harbouring a hamster on her lap. She got out of the vehicle, placing her pet on the dashboard, and was arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicants. The hamster, whose name is not known, was allowed to roam free inside the vehicle and it took three officers to capture the energetic rodent.

Huey maintained that she had been taking a trip to the shop, although why she chose to take her furry friend along for the ride remains a mystery.

However, it appears that Huey was not all that attached to her unorthodox driving companion. She told police that she did not have anyone who could come collect the hamster, so they should 'just kill it'.

■ Do you wonder why we say certain things, or what they really mean? Each week we will examine a different word or phrase and tell you how it came about.

This week it is... . Badger to death

Harass or persecute.

The phrase 'badger to death' alludes to the nocturnal burrowing mammal Meles meles, that is, the badger. At first sight it would seem intuitive that the expression refers to the fate of badgers in badger-baiting, an erstwhile so-called sport in which badgers were pitted against dogs and the protagonists tore each other apart. However, those fights weren't as one-sided as we may now suppose. Badgers were chosen for this entertainment as they are extremely tenacious when cornered and have the ability to bite their prey until their teeth meet. This fact has led to the alternative view that 'badgering to death' originally referred to the fate of the dogs and meant 'killed by a badger'. We aren't ever likely to know which of these derivations is correct, although most etymologists favour the former explanation.

'Badgering' has been used as a verb to denote persecution for some time. Francis Grose gave a definition of it in the 1785 edition of his invaluable glossary A Classical Dictionary of the Vulgar Tongue:

Badger, to confound, perplex, or teaze.

The first record found of 'badgered to death' in print doesn't refer directly to badgers, nor to fighting dogs, but is a metaphorical reference to theatrical performers. This reference is found in Charles Dibdin's journal of the dramatic arts The By-stander; or, Universal Weekly Expositor, 1790, in which he gives the following advice: It is always worth a manager's while to engage a performer for three years. The first he is a drudge; the second he is a servant of all work; the third badgered to death, and at length dismissed.

Badger baiting was made illegal in the UK in 1835 and instances of it are now rare, but it still does go on and prosecutions are occasionally brought. Despite that decline, the phrase has been given a new lease of life in recent years. Many UK dairy farmers claim that badgers, which are carriers of Bovine TB, are responsible for spreading the disease and killing their cattle. Of course, tabloid newspapers usually report TB outbreaks with the headline 'cows are badgered to death'.

■ DRUNK AT THE FRONT DOOR

A man and his wife were awakened at 3:00 am by a loud pounding on the door.The man gets up and goes to the door where a drunken stranger, standing in the pouring rain, is asking for a push.

"Not a chance," says the husband, "it is 3:00 in the morning!" He slams the door and returns to bed.

"Who was that?" asked his wife..

"Just some drunk guy asking for a push," he answers.

"Did you help him?" she asks.

"No, I did not. It's 3 in the morning and it's bloody pouring rain out there!"

"Well, you have a short memory," says his wife. "Can't you remember about three months ago when we broke down, and those two guys helped us? I think you should help him, and you should be ashamed of yourself! God loves drunk people too, you know."

The man does as he is told, gets dressed, and goes out into the pounding rain. He calls out into the dark, "Hello, are you still there?"

"Yes," comes back the answer.

"Do you still need a push?" calls out the husband.

"Yes, please!" comes the reply from the dark.

"Where are you?" asks the husband.

"Over here on the swing," replied the drunk.

■ NIGHT OUT

I've just read a survey about the most popular way to get home from the Pub after a long night out on the booze.....the results were staggering.

■ AMAZING!

While preparing for his extraordinary freefall jump from space, it is being reported that before his descent Felix Baumgartner made an amazing discovery - he found the ball from Chris Waddle's penalty in World Cup 1990.

■ GLASGOW WEDDING

Two Glaswegians, Archie and Jimmy, are sitting in the pub discussing Jimmy's forthcoming wedding.

"Och, it's all goin' pure brilliant," says Jimmy. "Ar've got everythin' organised awready, the fluers, the church, the caurs, the reception, the rings, the minister, even ma stag night".

Archie nods approvingly.

"I've even bought a kilt to be married in!" continues Jimmy.

"A kilt?" exclaims Archie, "That's magic, you'll look pure smart in that. What's the tartan?...."

"Och," says Jimmy, "A'd imagine she'll be in white."

■ NO ONE IS INNOCENT

One sick individual, now universally loathed by a nation for shafting the innocent. Seen here with Jimmy Saville.

CHA AM INFORMATION

CHA AM, THAILAND

Welcome to this new section of AWOL devoted to near neighbours Cha Am. The intention of this section is to bring news, information, details of events and anything else Cha Am related to our readers.

Over the weeks and months we expect to see the section expand to include 'mirror' sections of the main AWOL dedicated to Cha Am, such as Baloon Chasers, Classifieds and Local Sports. If you have information or an event in Cha Am, or have a business in Cha Am and are interested in advertising in this section we have made an arrangement with Darren at the Cha Am Pub (see ad below) to be our local point of contact, or you can of course also contact AWOL direct by email on info@awolonline.net or any of our other contact methods shown on page 29.

CHA AM NEWS

The big recent news in Cha Am, other than the bike rally about to take place, is the construction taking place of Cha Am's first shopping mall. Anyone who has been along the beach road in recent weeks will probably have wondered what was taking place - named The Harbor many people thought it might be something to do with a possible ferry that was rumoured to be coming from Pattaya, but the project will be hosting various internationally known retail and other businesses such as Starbucks, and if the artist impressions are to be believed TGI Fridays. The project will include picturesque outdoor dining areas overlooking the beautiful golden sandy beach's that Cha Am is famous for.

CHA AM SPORTS

The Blue Lagoon Guesthouse and Bar is the hub of the local sports scene in Cha Am, and the owner Stuart organises both the pool and darts leagues that operate there. You can find all the latest results, tables and fixtures on the same pages as the rest of the area's leagues, but eventually a separate Cha Am section is likely. We hope to obtain an occasional report from Stuart, although he is a very busy man, as he also organises a quiz night every Monday from 7pm, and hosts open darts nights as well. We have been informed it is best not to mention the latest Blue Lagoon Trophy which took place a few weeks ago though!

FEATURED GAME

SUNDAY 28TH OCTOBER 2012
PREMIER LEAGUE
Chelsea v Man Utd 23:00
Stamford Bridge, London, England
Apologies to fans of Everton and Liverpool, but in terms of the league, this is the biggest game of the weekend. Chelsea have been dominant so far, while United are just starting to gel again. Can't see a winner here, but it should be a pulsating game, and a draw we think.

GLOBAL RACISM TO BE ERADICATED BY EVERYONE WEARING NO TO RACISM T-SHIRTS

■ LIVERPOOL, ENGLAND

The ongoing problem of global racism could be solved by more people wearing anti-racism t-shirts, according to people who supply anti-racism -shirts.

T-shirts are the primary weapon against racism, according to anti-racism groups, and their promotion should extend to all walks of life.

The latest findings have been welcomed by football fans everywhere after a row between Alex Ferguson and Rio Ferdinand threatened to degenerate into unpleasant name-calling.

A fuming Ferguson publicly questioned Ferdinand's intelligence after the player's refusal to wear a Kick Racism Out t-shirt, and insisted the player would be directly at fault if there is any racism going on anywhere today.

Ferguson told reporters, "The boy should know better. Without this message on his t-shirt people will think he's supporting racism, obviously."

Left: The ongoing campaign to get rid of football fans and players from far-right racist groups has borrowed heavily from the tactics used by the far left to prevent those same people sympathising with the far right racist groups. Apparently.

Aryan supremacists have admitted the t-shirts are so effective in combating their ideology that their goal of seeing Ron Atkinson in a primetime slot on Radio Five Live may have to wait until November 2018.

Reformed racist and Millwall fan, Simon Williams, said "The racial awareness t-shirts really helped me to see the error of my ways."

"I'd never really thought of racism being a bad thing before. But then I saw a No To Racism t-shirt and 'bam!' – it just made sense."

"However, since fewer players wore the t-shirts last Saturday I'm wondering if it's OK to start being racist again?"

"I mean, if I can't trust my morality to the t-shirts worn by footballers, how else will I decide what's right or wrong?"
